

Acceptable Use Policy

This Acceptable Use Policy (this "Policy") describes prohibited uses of the Hosting Services offered by NeoSystems LLC and the website located at neosystemscorp.com (the "NeoSystems Site"). The examples described in this Policy are not exhaustive. We may modify this Policy at any time by posting a revised version on the NeoSystems Site. By using the Hosting Services or accessing the NeoSystems Site, you agree to the latest version of this Policy. If you violate the Policy or authorize or help others to do so, we may suspend or terminate your use of the Hosting Services.

You may not use the Hosting Services or the NeoSystems Site to (i) engage in, foster, or promote illegal, harmful, fraudulent, infringing or offensive use; (ii) to transmit, store, display, distribute or otherwise make available content that is illegal, harmful, fraudulent, infringing or offensive; (iii) to violate the security or integrity of any network, computer or communications system, software application, or network or computing device (each, a "System"); (iv) make network connections to any users, hosts, or networks unless you have permission to communicate with them; or (v) engage in email or other message abuse; including:

- Any activity or conduct that is likely to be in breach of any applicable laws, codes or regulations, including data protection and privacy laws and laws relating to unsolicited commercial electronic messages, or that may be harmful to others, our operations or reputation, including disseminating, promoting or facilitating child pornography, offering or disseminating fraudulent goods, services, schemes, or promotions, make-money-fast schemes, Ponzi and pyramid schemes, phishing, or pharming.
- Content that infringes or misappropriates the intellectual property or proprietary rights of others.
- Content that is defamatory, obscene, abusive, invasive of privacy, or otherwise objectionable, including content that constitutes child pornography, relates to bestiality, or depicts non-consensual sex acts.
- Use of an internet account or computer without the owner's authorization.
- Unauthorized access to or use of data, systems or networks, including any attempt to probe, scan or test the vulnerability of a system or network or to breach security or authentication measures without express authorization of the owner of the system or network.
- Monitoring data or traffic on any network or system without the express authorization of the owner of the system or network.
- Monitoring or crawling of a System that impairs or disrupts the System being monitored or crawled.
- Inundating a target with communications requests so the target either cannot respond to legitimate traffic or responds so slowly that it becomes ineffective.
- Operating network services like open proxies, open mail relays, or open recursive domain name servers.
- Content or other computer technology that may damage, interfere with, surreptitiously intercept, or expropriate any system, program, or data, including viruses, Trojan horses, worms, time bombs, or cancelbots.

- Collecting or using information, including email addresses, screen names or other identifiers, by deceit, (such as, phishing, Internet scamming, password robbery, spidering, and harvesting).
- Use of any false, misleading, or deceptive TCP-IP packet header information in an email or a newsgroup posting.
- Distributing software that covertly gathers or transmits information about a user.
- Distributing advertisement delivery software unless: (i) the user affirmatively consents to the download and installation of such software based on a clear and conspicuous notice of the nature of the software, and (ii) the software is easily removable by use of standard tools for such purpose included on major operating systems (such as Microsoft's "add/remove" tool).
- Any conduct that is likely to result in retaliation against NeoSystems or any of its employees, officers or other agents, including engaging in behavior that results in any server being the target of a denial of service attack (DoS).
- Any activity intended to withhold or cloak identity or contact information, including the omission, deletion, forgery or misreporting of any transmission or identification information, such as return mailing and IP addresses.
- Interference with service to any user of the NeoSystems or other network including, without limitation, mail bombing, flooding, deliberate attempts to overload a system and broadcast attacks.
- Any action which directly or indirectly results in any of our IP space being listed on any abuse database (i.e. Spamhaus).
- Conducting any gambling activity in violation of any required licenses, codes of practice, or necessary technical standards required under the laws or regulations of any jurisdiction in which your site is hosted or accessed.
- Any action that is otherwise illegal or solicits conduct that is illegal under laws applicable to you or to NeoSystems.
- Attempting to probe, scan, penetrate or test the vulnerability of a NeoSystems system or network, or to breach the NeoSystems security or authentication measures, whether by passive or intrusive techniques.
